Snooker & Billiards Ireland

Diversity & Inclusion Statement Individuals with different cultures, perspectives and experiences are at the heart of the way SBI works. We want to recruit, develop and retain the most talented people, regardless of their background<sup>1</sup> and make best use of their talents.

We welcome and promote diversity within the snooker profession, and we encourage our members to embrace the values of diversity, inclusion and equality. We work to drive awareness of the importance and benefits of promoting diversity and inclusion within the profession and society.

We seek to develop a work environment where we treat all employees and volunteers as individuals, fairly and in a consistent way. We work within the spirit and the practice of the Equality Status Acts 2000-2015 by promoting a culture of respect and dignity and actively challenging discrimination, should it ever arise.

We will remove unnecessary barriers for our members seeking opportunities through training and development, promotion and career planning. We will continue to support our leaders, employees and members to demonstrate the principles of diversity and inclusion in their everyday activities, roles and functions.

Equality and Diversity Policy

1. Purpose

This policy sets out SIB's approach to equality and diversity. SIB is committed to promoting equality and diversity and promoting a culture that actively values difference and recognises that people from different backgrounds and experiences can bring valuable insights to the association and enhance the way we work.

SIB aims to be an inclusive organisation, committed to providing equal opportunities throughout employment including in the recruitment, training and development of employees, and to pro-actively tackling and eliminating discrimination.

2. Equality and diversity at SIB

At SIB, we consider that equality means breaking down barriers, eliminating discrimination and ensuring equal opportunities and access for all groups.

We consider diversity to mean celebrating difference and valuing everyone. Each person is an individual with visible and non-visible differences and by respecting this everyone can feel valued for their contributions which is beneficial not only for the individual but for SIB too.

We acknowledge that equality and diversity are not inter-changeable but inter-dependent. There can be no equality of opportunity if difference is not valued and harnessed.

3. Scope

The rights and obligations set out in this policy apply equally to all members, be it employees, volunteers, or players. You have personal responsibility for the application of this policy.

As part of your induction, you are expected to read and familiarise yourself with this policy, ensure that this policy is properly observed and fully complied with. It is also of particular relevance to directors, chairmen and other employees concerned with recruitment, training and promotion procedures and member decisions which affect others.

4. SBI's commitment

Every member is entitled to a working environment that promotes dignity, equality and respect for all. SBI will not tolerate any acts of unlawful or unfair discrimination (including harassment) committed against an employee, volunteer, player or any member because of a protected characteristic:

- sex;
- gender reassignment;
- marriage and civil partnership;
- pregnancy and maternity;
- race (including ethnic origin, colour, nationality and national origin);
- disability;
- sexual orientation;
- religion and or belief;
- age.

Discrimination on the basis of work pattern (paid or voluntary) which is unjustifiable will also not be tolerated.

No form of intimidation, bullying or harassment will be tolerated. If you believe that you may have suffered discrimination because of any of the above protected characteristics, you should consider the appropriateness and feasibility of attempted informal resolution by discussion in the first instance with a member in a relevant position of seniority. For types of discrimination see annex to this policy.

Allegations regarding potential breaches of this policy will be treated in confidence and investigated in accordance with the appropriate procedure. SBI will ensure that individuals who make such allegations in good faith will not be victimised or treated less favourably by SBI as a result.

However, false allegations of a breach of this policy which are found to have been made in bad faith will be dealt with under SBI's Disciplinary Policy. A person found to have breached this policy may be subject to disciplinary action under SBI's Disciplinary Policy. Employees may also be personally liable for any acts of discrimination prohibited by this policy that they commit, meaning that they can be sued by the victim.

ANNEX - types of discrimination

There are various types of discrimination prohibited by this policy. The main types are:

1) Direct discrimination

Direct discrimination occurs where one person is treated less favourably than another because of a protected characteristic set out in this policy. By way of example, refusing to promote a pregnant employee on the basis that she is shortly due to go on maternity leave would be direct discrimination on the protected characteristic of the employee's sex. Other types are:

- Associative discrimination - this is direct discrimination against someone because they associate with another person who possesses a protected characteristic. For example, an employee is discriminated against because his/her son is disabled.
- Perceptive discrimination - this is direct discrimination against an individual because others think they possess a particular protected characteristic. For example, where co-workers believe the individual is gay even if the person does not actually possess that characteristic.

2) Indirect discrimination

Indirect discrimination occurs when an unjustifiable requirement or condition is applied, which appears to be the same for all, but which has a disproportionate, adverse effect on one group of people. This is discrimination even though there was no intention to discriminate. For example, a requirement for Ireland based qualifications could disadvantage applicants who have obtained their qualifications outside of Ireland; this could amount to indirect discrimination on the grounds of race.

3) Victimisation

Victimisation is where an employee is treated less favourably than others because they have asserted legal rights against SBI or assisted a colleague in doing so. For example, victimisation may occur where an employee has raised a genuine grievance against SBI and is banned as a result.

4) Harassment

Harassment is “unwanted conduct related to a relevant protected characteristic, which has the purpose or effect of violating an individual’s dignity or creating an intimidating, hostile, degrading, humiliating or offensive environment for that individual.” It is important to remember that it is not the intention of the harasser but how the recipient perceives their behaviour, which determines whether harassment has occurred. Please see SBI's Harassment Policy, for further details of how SBI will deal with bullying and harassment.
